Chicago, Jan. 8.—The interest of both buyers and sellers in the rubber market today was divided to a large extent between the board of trade, which is now tending to make all markets due, and a group of speculators, who are tending to play the market off against the board. The board of trade is inclined to support the market, and the speculators are inclined to play the market off against the board. The board of trade is inclined to support the market, and the speculators are inclined to play the market off against the board.

The trade in oats was light and the market featureless, tending towards ease and sympathy with wheat. Receipts here were 236,000 cwt. May opened a shade higher at 27 1/2c. and closed at 27 1/2c. and high for the day. The market was ready for some time at 27 1/2c. Previous years were inclined to be firmer. Late big receipts caused some selling early, but the market held steady, the heavy realizing of recent days apparently feeling heavy nearly finished. From other sources came a few small lots. Some farmers held their own for some time. May took opened a shade down at 26 1/2c. and closed at 26 1/2c. May had a shade better at 26 1/2c.

CLOSING WAS DULL

Demand For Stocks Was Light, But Offerings Were Even Lighter.

New York, Jan. 8.—Prices went down easily at the opening in sympathy with the great weakness in London. First prices ranged 1½% lower than Saturday's closing as a rule. Exceptional losses to 2 or 3% were suffered by the Texas and New Mexico, Tennessee Coal, Mid-tropitican and American Tobacco. Prices hardened slightly after the opening, but were not able to reach the level as the arbitrage houses sold heavily, driving the internal market down. Some of the specialties dropped lower than the general market, but the market for the rest of the day became rather dull and there were fractional gains all round. The local market was not much affected by the weakness in sympathy with London on the reported repulse of the Boer at Ladysmith. The market for foreign securities was somewhat forced upward 2 points on the advanced news of the capture of Ladysmith. Sugar companies, International stocks were the best.

The demand for stocks was light, but offerings were even lighter, so that prices hardened to near last night's close. North-western dropped four and rallied a point. Such losses as were not wiped out were reduced to fractional limits with few exceptions. The closing was very dull but firm at small net losses.

Clearance Sale!

A TWENTIETH CENTURY REDUCTION SALE. Savings are nearly half in every department. Never before has a New Year been ushered in with such unusual value-giving in the Great Eastern. Months ago thousands of dollars were invested in all kinds of merchandise, before the abrupt price advances so general in the commercial world. Savings will actually average half throughout the whole establishment. That is to say, half of prices current today, and that basis is mutually fair to you and ourselves. Every great trading center of the globe is represented. The products shown are not solely from our home manufacturers. BURROWS METHODS PERMIT NO DULL SEASONS. Time was when every merchant expected at least two dull seasons in a year—times between hay and grass, as the old saying goes. But Burrows methods were always progressive—such times are only dim memories here. It is careful forethought and shrewd buying that prevents business stagnation—that arranges sales such as this—that keeps many hands employed where once a few would suffice. Such methods are, indeed, far reaching and widely beneficial.

THE WEEK OF PRAYER.

Nearly All of the City Churches to Observe It.

This is the week of prayer throughout the Christian world, and most of the churches in Duluth will observe it. At the First Presbyterian church the services will be at 7:45 o'clock, and the program will be as follows: Monday—Topic: "A Grateful, Cheerful Life." Tuesday—Bible study: Wednesday—Topic: "The Helpfulness of Prayer." Thursday—Topic: "Loyalty to Christ." Friday—Christian service. The First Methodist church will have services each evening of the week, and special music will be arranged by Professor Woodward, director of the choir. At the Swedish Baptist church, on Nineteenth avenue west, Rev. K. A. Lundin, pastor of the church, will lead the services. On Wednesday evening he will be assisted by Dr. Scherstrom, of Lake Superior, Wis., who is a student of Morgan Park, Chicago. Rev. E. Lindin will conduct meetings every evening this week at the Bethel Baptist church on Ninth avenue east and Third street.

WARREN CASE.

Lake Avenue Accident Comes Up in District Court Once More.

The trial of jury cases was taken up in district court this morning, and Judge Cant caught the first case in room No. 2. This was the personal injury case of Charles Warren against the Duluth Street Railway company, which is up for its third trial. Warren was the driver of the fire truck that collided at the corner of Lake avenue and Superior street with a street car a year ago last September, when two firemen were killed and two injured. The accident resulted in four damage suits against the street railway company, and the case has been before the court every term since. The following guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Sumner, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Abrahamson, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Mark, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Markowitz, Mr. and Mrs. S. Barnard, Mr. and Mrs. S. Shapiro, Miss Anna Cook, Miss Lilian Abrahamson, Miss Etta Cook, Miss Julia Glassner, of Biwabik, Miss Mamie Mark, Miss Etta Shapiro, Messrs. B. J. Cook, Ben Katz, Moses Cook, M. J.

trial again, owing to the number of times the accident has been in court, it is getting to be very hard work to get a jury, and this morning twenty-five men were called before the jury was complete. Several were excused for actual bias, and both sides exercised a large number of peremptory challenges. Warren asks for $5000 general damages and $200 special damages for the injuries he received in the accident, claiming that the street railway company was to blame for the accident.

John Jensen, Jr., appeared for the plaintiff and Thomas S. Wood and Henry E. Greene appeared for the company. Judge Dill at noon had just completed drawing a jury to try the case of Isaac M. Patterson against A. E. Prince, to recover $1200 alleged to be due on a note. Judge Ensign did not start a case this morning, as it took until noon to supply the other two courts with juries.

CAPTURED HIS CASH

Mrs. Frankie McClure Works Knockout Act on a Restaurant Man.

MADE A GOOD HAUL

Got Nearly $300 But Later Fell Into a Detective's Hands.

With a heart that lays dull and heavy beneath a silk bodice blazoned with artificial gems, Mrs. Frankie McClure is enjoying all the liberties and glorious privileges of a dainty little cell at police headquarters this afternoon. An overpowering desolation and great sorrow entered her ideal young life, which even cosmetic jelly and rouge and a wan, mirthless attempt to appear happy can not conceal. Last night she and a man, who would probably move over to West Superior and take his restaurant with him if his name was mentioned, were quietly disposing themselves in a soft, hazy atmosphere of whiskey, champagne and cigarette smoke in a room over a Bowers saloon. The man had no memory of the night, but Mrs. Frankie McClure wore a dress of gleaming, brilliant red, and that between $25 and $300 worth of jewelry.

The "touch" was made about 2 o'clock this morning, and an hour later Frankie McClure was left at a West Duluth hotel by another man. When the man that was robbed came to, he immediately noticed that the detective had discovered that in her haste Mrs. McClure had left her pocketbook and cards in the room. The detective knew the dazzling red costume before it was described to them, and they scattered in all directions to look for it. This morning Detective Troyer boarded the St. Paul & Duluth train, looking for the woman, and sure enough at West Duluth in walks the "scarletest" thing in the way of a dress that ever happened. The detective knew the woman, and up to this time she was very frigid, but under the chemical rays of police investigation she melted. Another searching investigation at police headquarters brought the woman, but she still more humbly of spirit, but she maintains she is innocent, and will say nothing of the man who was her accomplice.

The police say there is no question about the woman, and so the man that was robbed. All that he is afraid of is that his name will appear in print, and he would gladly drop the matter now, but he can't.

The McClure woman has been in town for some time. She always wore the same red dress and usually a veil. At several hotels where she has resided she has always worn the veil and been accompanied by a man with a full-fledged overcoat. The same description of the woman was given at the West Duluth hotel at 2 o'clock this morning, and it is supposed that the man who had escaped, has planted the money.

The woman is an exception to the general rule of feminine infirmities. She is neither pretty, spirituelle, vivacious or sprightly, and almost any man would doubt her on the charge of being attractive. Her one redeeming feature seems to be an delicacy and accuracy of her "touch."

"The cheapest net—yet I am always changing," said the substitute to Tooley Mountain Tex. Made by the Madison Medicine company, 25 cents. Ask your druggist.

Scratch, scratch, scratch: unable to get to sleep during the night, itching piles—horrible! At any drug store, 50 cents. Never fails.

Taking Up the Orders.
The county is doing a little financing just now that results in some saving of interest. The poor fund is considerably overdrawn and the road fund is overdrawn, but the county is taking up the orders issued on these funds with other money, and thus making a net saving of 5 per cent interest. When the orders are left out they draw 7 per cent interest, and when the county money is deposited it draws 2 per cent. By taking the money and buying up county orders it saves the difference between these rates of interest is saved, and the accumulation of indebtedness is avoided.

The money that is being used for this purpose does not come out of any particular fund, but it is taken from the unapportioned tax collections on hand.

Pretty Sunday Wedding.
A very pretty wedding took place last evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Cook, 2301 East Third street. Miss Anna Kukinski, a sister of Mrs. M. S. Cook, was married to Max Roginsky, of Hibbing. The ceremony was performed by Rabbi Jacob Eppin. Miss Marie Gutelson, of Minneapolis, was maid of honor, and Isaac Sumnerfield, of Cloquet, was best man. The following guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Sumner, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Abrahamson, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Mark, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Markowitz, Mr. and Mrs. S. Barnard, Mr. and Mrs. S. Shapiro, Miss Anna Cook, Miss Lilian Abrahamson, Miss Etta Cook, Miss Julia Glassner, of Biwabik, Miss Mamie Mark, Miss Etta Shapiro, Messrs. B. J. Cook, Ben Katz, Moses Cook, M. J.

SAFE ROBBED.

W. A. Riddle, Proctorknott Grocer, Is Relieved of $300 in Cash.

Proctorknott sprang into prominence last night with one of the slickest safe robberies on record. The grocery store of W. A. Riddle was broken into, the safe shattered, opened and $300 in cash taken. There is not the slightest clue to the robbers, but there are several very mysterious features connected with the affair, which will come out in a few days.

The store was entered by the front door at an early hour this morning. After an unsuccessful attempt to drill a hole and blow the safe open, the robbers struck the right combination and opened the safe without much trouble, and this leads to a supposition that they were experts, but were supplied with very poor tools. The heavy outside door had several holes started in it and was badly battered with either a crowbar or a heavy hammer used by railroad crooks in driving heavy spikes. Both were done on the floor near the safe when the store was opened this morning. There was an old brace and a pocket knife left, also showing that the robbers did not stay long after getting the cash.

Mr. Riddle said this morning that he thought the work must have been done by experts, though the tools that were left failed to confirm this theory. He thought, however, that the men did not have the best of instruments at hand, and that they would probably never have been able to open the safe if they had not struck the combination. There were five marks of heavy hammer blows on the outside of the safe, which must have made considerable noise when the blows were delivered.

TONY FAILS TO APPEAR.

Manilla May Forfeit His Bail of $500.

In police court this morning, Tony Manilla, charged with assaulting little Lena Rital, failed to appear for his examination and Judge Ensign declared his $500 bail forfeited. His attorney, David G. P. G. Pitt, accused with having assaulted Frederick John Trosie, entered a plea of not guilty and his hearing was set for next Saturday morning. David G. P. G. Pitt, charged with having assaulted Frederick John Trosie, entered a plea of not guilty and his hearing was set for next Saturday morning. David G. P. G. Pitt, charged with having assaulted Frederick John Trosie, entered a plea of not guilty and his hearing was set for next Saturday morning.

BOARD OF TRADE CAUCUS.

G. G. Barnum For President and J. F. McCarthy Vice President.

The caucus which is always held preceding the annual election of the Duluth board of trade was held this morning at 11 o'clock. G. G. Barnum who is now vice president of the board was placed in nomination for the office of president and John F. McCarthy was nominated for vice president. There are four directors to be elected. P. S. La Salle was renominated by acclamation. A. H. Wolcott was also renominated. The directors were also nominated. The directors were also nominated. The directors were also nominated.

THE WINNIPEG CURLERS.

Coming Delayed By Prospects of Warm Weather.

The party of Winnipeg curlers who are to pay a visit to the Duluth curlers had expected to leave Winnipeg today and arrive here tomorrow morning, but today the weather man said that the chances were good for warm weather for a day or two, and they were wired to delay their visit for a few days. They will probably come about the middle of the week. Two of the men who are coming will bring their wives with them. They will be entertained at the Spaulding during their stay. The men who are coming are among the leading business men of Winnipeg, and they are all crack curlers. They are T. A. Hamilton, bank commissioner of the Canadian Pacific railroad; J. S. Ewart and C. P. Wilson, lawyers, and James Deane, merchant. Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Ewart are to come.

The Duluth curlers are eagerly anticipating the visit, and will entertain them handsomely while they stay, and give them all the curling they want, which is precisely what they want.

The Curling Scores.

Five games were played at the curling club Sunday in the Graves-McIntyre agency contest. The results were as follows: Dr. H. B. Black, 8, against Dr. H. B. Black, 10; Dr. H. B. Black, 8, against Dr. H. B. Black, 10; Dr. H. B. Black, 8, against Dr. H. B. Black, 10; Dr. H. B. Black, 8, against Dr. H. B. Black, 10; Dr. H. B. Black, 8, against Dr. H. B. Black, 10.

Examining Bruner Deal.

Deputy Public Examiner Davis, of St. Paul, is in the city making one of the regular inquiries into the state of St. Louis county's book and financial affairs. He will spend several days at the county house in that work. He said that among other things he is looking into the personal property tax judgments purchased from the county by S. S. Bruner some time ago.

The Mayor Will Talk.

Mayor Truesdell left this afternoon for a flying trip to Minneapolis, where he will be the guest of honor at a banquet to be given by the "Six o'clock club" this evening. The club is composed of fifty of Minneapolis' most prominent professional and business men, and the banquet is to be a very swagger affair. The mayor will deliver an address on "Municipal Ownership." Miss question which the Minneapolis people have become very much interested in.

Bond Proposition For West Duluth Plant to Be Delayed Until Later.

ARE ENOUGH ALREADY

Aldermen Think There Is Enough on the Ballot Without It.

The proposition to issue $100,000 in bonds to either purchase or parallel the West Duluth water plant will not be voted on at the coming election. This is the decision said to have been reached by a majority of the members of the council in the past few days. The reason is that they consider that the voters will have enough to do in making a choice of mayor, aldermen and voting on the charter and proposition to build an electric light plant. It was considered inadvisable at this time to encumber the ballot with too many important questions, and it is safe to say that the council will not submit the West Duluth plant purchase to the people till another election.

Another feature is that the city has not yet investigated the value of the West Duluth plant to the extent that it would be ready to make a definite proposition to the bondholders at the coming conference. The decision against submitting the water plant proposition at this time will not affect the conference between the bondholders of the plant and the council committee. The city will be represented at this conference by Aldermen Crowley, Krumsiegel and Cullum and possibly the mayor and President Crossweller of the council. It is not thought probable that the conference will result in a deal for the plant, especially if the city holds out $100,000. The attorneys for the company have already intimated very strongly that it would be useless for the city to make such a proposition. The charter will be given to the council this evening. It was turned over to the mayor this morning and he in turn gave it to the city clerk, who will submit it to the aldermen in the regular order of business this evening. It is probable that the charter will be printed in pamphlet form and it is generally understood that a strong campaign is to be made in its favor, notwithstanding the fact that the Republicans ignored it in their city platform.

The selection of election judges and the designation of polling places and other incidental business relating to the coming election will be taken up at this evening's meeting.

Hundreds of Dollars worth of Muslin Underwear, Lin- ens, and other White Goods...

Linens, White Goods, Sheets and Pillow Cases, Blankets and Quilts.

The famous Dewey band heads the list. We've yet to hear of any make that equals it in fineness of finish, in satisfactory results. These are not named after the war hero. These linens gained fame, many, many years before our own George thought of sinking the Spanish fleet at Manila Bay.

The Dewey family of linen fame, located in Belfast, Ireland, the great linen center, have lived there for more than 100 years, and learned to make linens which are in their teens. We've sold many and they give each universal satisfaction, that we can hardly sing their praises loud enough. For thirteen successive years they have carried off first honors at various exhibitions. These are the linens that we will place before you tomorrow, at prices that are so low you will be surprised. Plenty enough in fact to last you quite some time—as we are giving you the benefit of ad prices, and the goods are imported in such quantities that we can't make it and it is only a question of a short time when we shall be obliged to ask the advance. In addition to the goods we are giving before you many excellent grades of heavy German linens, made in Lorau. These are a little more expensive, but give many satisfactory results.

perfect success of the proposed tunnel, and expresses the opinion that it would do more to develop Africa and extend French commerce than any number of expeditions. Goods, he points out, could be sent from France to Algeria and Tunis without their having to be shipped and unshipped for the crossing of the Mediterranean, not to mention various other advantages resulting from the scheme. With regard to the expenditure, M. Berlier takes the St. Gothard tunnel as a basis, the cost of which was 2,800,000 francs per kilometer. The tunnel under the straits would be forty-four kilometers in length. This work, according to the sanguine estimates of M. Berlier, could be accomplished in seven years. England's view on the subject, apparently, has not yet been taken into consideration.

Perhaps England would set up strong objections to the scheme, because it would to some extent lessen the value of her great fortifications at Gibraltar. The idea of constructing a tunnel under the British channel between Dover and Calais has always encountered bitter opposition in England, the position being taken that it would expose England to the danger of a French army using the tunnel for the purpose of invading England. Any unprejudiced observer who will carefully consider the question will see how very silly is the idea of England being invaded in that way, when it would be so very easy to close up the English end of the tunnel in time of war.

It is altogether probable that some day there will be a tunnel under the Mediterranean from Morocco to Gibraltar and another under the British channel between England and France. Then, with the Cape-to-Calais railroad built and discontinued to the coast of Morocco, through trains could be run between London and Cape Town.

MYRON BUNNELL DEATH.
The death of Myron Bunnell, of this city, who was seniorly serving at Phoenix, Ariz., is announced. Mr. Bunnell was numbered among the oldest citizens of Duluth, having come here in the summer of 1881. At one time he was actively engaged in the business life of the city, and later became prominent in public affairs, serving as an efficient member of the council, as fire commissioner and subsequently as chairman of the board of public works. It was during this period that Duluth was building streets, building sewers and constructing sidewalks on an extensive scale to accommodate the rapid growth of the city's population and business, and Mr. Bunnell devoted much of his time to looking after the interests of the city in the making and carrying out of the contracts for the vast and costly public improvements. His work was zealous and faithful in his efforts to see that the work was well and honestly done will be testified to by those who were associated with him in the conduct of municipal affairs. His strong personality impressed itself upon the decisions of the common council, while he was a member of that body.

Mr. Bunnell was the founder of the Evening Herald, having started it in company with his son in 1882, and during the greater part of the time that he was its principal owner he took an active part in its business management. Many friends will deeply regret his demise.

Hale, of Maine; Hoar, of Massachusetts; Carnegie, of Pennsylvania; Edmunds, of Vermont; Mason, of Illinois, and Foraker, of Ohio, should have been invited. If it had we should not now be suffering from such an enormous expenditure of money for war purposes. We are paying a high price for our greed, which will impress itself upon the people more and more.

A vigorous campaign has been started in England, under the leadership of Sir Edward Carson, member of parliament, for the reduction of cable rates between different parts of the empire. To many places in India the charge is $125 a word, and this interferes with the free use of telegraphy. It is held that a material reduction would serve to cement the different portions of the empire more closely together.

CURLERS ARRIVE

Four Winnipeg Men Come For Their Visit With Duluth Club.

WEATHER TOO WARM

No Curling But Weather Man Promises Cold Wave—The Program.

Four Winnipeg curlers, members of the Assiniboine Curling club of the Manitoba metropolis, arrived in the city this morning and are at the Spaulding. They will be the guests of the Duluth Curling club for several days, probably until Friday and longer, possibly. Two lulls are in the party and another gentleman will arrive here tomorrow morning. The men who came this morning are: T. A. Anderson, L. A. Hamilton, C. P. Wilson and James Tees. Tomorrow morning J. S. Ewart will come. Mrs. Ewart came today and also Mrs. Anderson.

The Duluth men had wired the Winnipeg curlers not to leave yesterday as the weather was soft, but they had already decided to come. As it is, however, they will not lose very much sport, for while there is no curling this afternoon a cold wave is coming and there may be a chance for games this evening. At any rate, there will be plenty of opportunity to play Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

The Winnipeg men are very much pleased with the Duluth club's new home and are delighted that the Duluth club is now enrolled in the membership of the Royal Canadian society, to which the Winnipeg club is allotted. This friendly visit from the Winnipeg men is probably due to that action. The Duluth and Winnipeg men have always been very friendly at bonspiels and have associated with each other in almost every case. The Duluth men keenly appreciate the expression of friendship from the Winnipeg men. A number of games have been arranged for the entertainment of the visitors from Winnipeg, as follows: Wednesday afternoon—R. J. MacLeod against Winnipeg; Wednesday evening—D. W. Stocking against James Chisholm; Thursday afternoon—Joseph Smith against G. C. Tyre, of Superior; Thursday evening—Donald Morrison against Winnipeg; Thursday morning—C. Tyre, of Superior, against Winnipeg; Friday afternoon—D. W. Stocking against Winnipeg; Friday evening—Joseph Smith against Winnipeg.

NEW DIRECTORS ELECTED.

Frederick Weyerhaeuser and A. B. Wolvin Added to First National.

The annual election of directors of the First National bank took place today and the following were chosen: Frederick Weyerhaeuser, of St. Paul; D. H. Bacon, A. B. Wolvin, A. M. Marshall, L. Meacham, Louis W. Hill, D. D. Thompson, A. C. Jones, A. L. Orlean and J. H. Light, all of Duluth, and John H. Baker, of Superior.

Two new names appear in the directorate of the First National bank. Frederick Weyerhaeuser and A. B. Wolvin, both of whom will add great strength to the bank. Mr. Weyerhaeuser is the owner of the bank and the strongest business men of Duluth. The bank now has the two strongest men in the Northwest represented in its directorate, James J. Hill and Frederick Weyerhaeuser.

May Be a Son-in-Law.

Toney Manilla, the Italian who forfeited $500 bail in police court yesterday morning, is still in town, and in all probability he and the little 15-year-old Ricci girl will be married as a result of the trouble between the girl's father and Manilla.

For the past two days Manilla has been in hiding, but this morning a shrewd effort was made by his friends to have the Ricci family take him for a son-in-law, and this afternoon it was said that the settlement was almost arranged.

NEVER SAW THE JOKE

How Rattlesnake Pete, the Black Hills Scout, Got His Name.

HAIR TURNED GRAY

As Result of Hiding From Indians In Supposed Snake Den.

Deadwood, S. D., Jan. 9.—Percy, of the Black Hills, has heard of Rattlesnake Pete, a scout, and asked him if he could pilot him through the Bad Lands to the Black Hills. The strange cognomen was as well known to one as that of Buffalo Bill or Wild Bill. His real name is William H. Laidlaw, he is an ex-soldier, and has been a resident of a town in Nebraska. He is a frequent visitor to the Black Hills, where he joins in the old-fashioned of pioneers and for a few days the old Indian trails and freighting adventures are enacted once again.

The question is often asked, where Mr. Laidlaw got his name. For a number of years he was one of the most daring scouts on the entire Western frontier. He has often said that he never knew what fear was. He knew every inch of the Bad Lands and the trails leading into the Black Hills were as familiar to him as the paths of his childhood days on the old homestead. For this reason he was in constant demand, either in the employ of the government or on some private adventure.

One day, about fifteen years ago, when it was still necessary to keep an eye out for the safety of one's scalp, a young lawyer named Ben Baker, who had just won his first case in court at Chadron, Neb., came to Bill and asked him if he could pilot him through the Bad Lands to the Black Hills. The young lawyer had heard a great deal of the grandeur of the scenery of this famous district, but his idea of the scenery was based on the tales of the old-time Indians who were crone. A bargain was soon struck between Bill and Baker, and one morning found them starting from Chadron, well provisioned and with plenty of peace offerings for the Indians. He had always treated them squarely and his word with them was good and they trusted as well as feared him. It just so happened that two weeks before they started on their trip two men had cleared a band of Indians pretty badly on a trade for some belts and fossils. The Indians swore with made a vow that they would shoot the first palefaces they met. Bill and the young lawyer were not aware of the fact and the scout raveled as he always did among the Indians on his errand, of course, but in his fearless, careless way, he was a general shot at and he was killed on the frontier. The third day they were out Bill's trained eye caught sight of a dozen or more redskins just rounding a bend in the trail, coming toward them, about a mile and a half away. Never suspecting anything, Bill and his companion rode boldly on and soon met the Indians. Baker offered them some game heads and some tobacco and was soon called out. Such a sight as he presented! He wore long hair and a black coat, and when he went into the cave. When he came out he was as pale as a sheet. He was streaked with gray. Baker couldn't speak for some time, he was so unnerved. He never saw the fun in the joke. Bill took it good-naturedly and passed the pipe around as well as the water jug several times. Baker is now a lawyer in Nebraska. Bill was once a day named "Rattlesnake Pete" by his Indian friends.

"I had a pretty good idea of the danger," said Baker, handing out a handful of glass bits. "I had a pretty good idea of the danger," said Baker, handing out a handful of glass bits.

PLANKINTON BANK CLOSED.

South Dakota State Bank Fails--Liabilities Not Known.

St. Paul, Jan. 9.—A. Mitchell, S. D., special to the Dispatch says: The State Bank of Plankinton, owned by C. L. Stevens, failed to open its doors today on account of Stevens' absence, nothing could be learned as to how heavy is the failure. Stevens went East Saturday, presumably to secure assistance and wired his cashier not to open the bank. Stevens' secretary, a Mrs. Stevens, which he transferred to his head clerk. It being the only bank there, nearly every business man was caught.

CONSIDERS CABLE.

Washington, Jan. 8.—The house committee on commerce gave a hearing to Messrs. Shryver and Bayless, president and vice president of the Pacific Cable company, of New York, today, relative to the laying of a trans-Pacific cable. Admiral John Irwin, retired, and Francis B. Thurber, president of the American Export association, spoke in favor of the private ownership of cables, and the committee, after a hearing of government officers relative to the cable and also a discussion of resolutions asking the secretary of war and navy for full information.

CURES PERMANENTLY

Did you ever hear of a dyspepsia cure for which your money was refunded if it failed to cure? Do you wonder how we dare guarantee this treatment after thousands of failures? It is very easy to understand when you know the truth: within a few months medical science has exploded the old theory that food is digested in the stomach, and proved that this organ only prepares it for digestion by the intestines; also that dyspepsia is caused by germs and all the different supposed diseases, flatulency, indigestion, nervousness, gastritis, catarrh of the stomach, biliousness and constipation, are but symptoms of disease itself. Knowing this to be a fact the R. T. Booth Co. treat the disease itself with their germicide Hyacinth, and by combining it with the best known remedies for the relief of the symptoms, we return the money in case of failure.

Home! Hyacinth! One contains a separate remedy for each symptom, and they are given separately.

Send symptoms and receive two days' treatment free. Sold by all druggists or sent by mail. Price 50c.

markings. In one of the sporting gods houses at Pretoria is to be found the skeleton of the gemsbok with the skeleton of a lion impaled on the knife-like horns. The Oryx figures in the Cape coat of arms, and is said to be the origin of the unicorn, the two horns, seen in profile, appearing as one.

only and Natal, and in the vicinity of the Orange River. The redbok is very shy, fast as thought and a powerful swimmer. It is from four feet long but only 2 and 1 inches high. It weighs 45 pounds. Another animal hard to run down, because of its agility, is the klipspringer, which is sturdy-built and lives almost always on thorn-bushes and rocks. It is very much like the English rock-buck, and is frequently referred to as the Klipbok.

The duiker and steenbok are numerous in the bushy sections of the country. Duikers are really much different from the klipspringers, being smaller and more like the English roe-buck, and are much more easily killed.

the thickest bush at the least noise. It is dark brown in color, and for that reason difficult to see. The steen bok literally means stone goat, and is one of the smallest but most beautiful of the antelopes. The bosch bok, or bush buck, is also common in the bush country, has little speed, and as a result is often captured in the open. It barks like a dog when brought to bay.

The springbok, or jumping goat, is the most plentiful of the antelope family, and herds of them are to be found in the mountainous districts. The hyena, wolf, wild dog, jackal, wild pig, giraffe, zebra and baboon furnish another interesting part of South African hunting for those who do not care to try for lion, leopard, elephant, rhinoceros or hippopotamus. One of the most experienced hunters recently in this city said he would prefer any of these big animals for the hunt to the buffalo. The danger with the lion the

The lions of South Africa are the finest the world over, and have twice the strength of the ordinary lion. The gray-necked is particularly ferocious, grows 12 feet from nose to tail tip, is 40 inches high at shoulder and weighs 600 pounds. It can cover 18 paces at one bound and has been known to leap a wall with a medium-sized bullock in his mouth. The most deadly shot is between the eyes. A bullet behind the shoulder, even though it pierces his heart, will not prevent the deadly spring.

The elephant is almost exterminated in the colony and Transvaal, where 50 years ago it was so numerous. In 1875 the export of ivory from Cape Colony was £60,000, and it is now fallen to less than £2000.

The ears of a "gun elephant" are extended in charging, measures 14 feet from tip to tip across the forehead. The tusks weigh about 150 pounds. Some have reached 300 pounds. They dislike noise, and have been driven away by the mining operations. The crack of a whip is frequently sufficient to scare them off.

The best hunters of South Africa, in addition to the wagon outfit, take with them on trips, two native boys to care for the oxen. One, the driver, is paid 24 a month, and carries the whip, which has a handle 12 feet long and a lash 20 feet. Both hands are required to use this instrument, while in expert hands, can inflict terrible punishment. The crack of the whip resembles pistol shots.

The second boy is paid 30 shillings a month and leads the front span of oxen by means of leather rein. This boy frequently attends to the cooking and beds.

So far as guns are concerned, the heavy ones are reserved for elephants.

The Dutch use an old smooth-bore "roer" which carries a 1-ounce spherical bullet. The piece weighs 30 pounds. For ordinary heavy game a pair of No. 8 rifles of 14 pounds each, burning 12 to 14 grains of powder, and discharging a hardened bullet of 2 ounces, are the popular style. Guns, however, are a matter of opinion, which the hunter must decide for himself.

HE IS A BILLIARD WONDER.
Wille Hoppe, Aged Eleven, Is the Coming Champion.
If you went among any group of billiard players in the city and told them that five years from now a lad of 16 would be the champion billiard player of the world they would be not to laugh at you.

and ask you to produce your phenomenon. Yet no less an authority than Maurice Daly believes this to be true. At all the championship games between Slosson and Schaefer last week, a fair-haired, blue-eyed, little boy of 11 occupied a corner seat. In all of their audiences the two giants of billiards had no more exacting critic than this youngster. His eye followed every play and he was among the first to applaud a successful carom, a sub-shot, says the New York Sun.

His name is Willie Hoppe, and he can do more with a cue in a minute than ninety-nine out of one hundred billiardists can do in five. He is equally good at all styles of game, playing fourteen and eighteen-inch balk line, cushion carom or straight rail billiards with steadiness and accuracy.

Willie Hoppe was born at Cornwall-on-the-Hudson, and was 11 years old on October 11. His father kept a hotel there, and in the barroom there was one of those old-time pool tables to be found in country hotels, and of more use for crap shooting than for accurate pool playing. Willie couldn't let the pool table alone after he was 5 years old. He wanted to play all the time. His game was rather slow one because he had to follow the cue ball with a chair, it being necessary for him to raise himself in order to see the better of the table. After he had been playing six or eight weeks he could put down eight balls regularly, once the pyramid was broken. His older brother, Frank, was also a natural pool player, and can beat Willie at the game today, but then Willie is devoting himself entirely to billiards now, and at that game he is Frank's master.

When Willie was 6 his father took him and his brother on a tour around the country. The boys gave exhibitions of pool playing that amazed those who saw them. At 9 Willie expressed a desire to try his hand at billiards, and showed such ability that his father decided never to allow him to play pool again. Without the advantage of expert coaching, Willie set out to establish a record at straight rail billiards for himself. He got the balls running to suit him one night, and when he quit he had made 140 shots without a miss. He might have gone on indefinitely, but nature rebelled, and Willie went to bed an exhausted boy. Straight rail billiards was child's play to a boy who could tear off points at this game, so Willie went in for balk line. He got to where he could run from forty to sixty at this most difficult game, and was finally invited to give an exhibition at the Palace hotel at Newburg. At 12-inch balk line on a 4½ by 3-foot table, he made a run of ninety-eight, which stands today as his record at this game. The highest hility as I could make ten." Mr. Hoppe has turned Willie over to Mr. Daly, and the latter will instruct him. "There is scarcely anything I can teach the boy," said Mr. Daly to a Sun reporter. "He has a knowledge of the game that bewilders me. Outside of Keeney and Poggenburg, I don't believe there is an amateur playing today who can duplicate that rail nurse of his. And he's only 11 years old. What hasn't he accomplished?"

"You could have knocked me down with a feather," said Mr. Daly, "when that child went at the game of 11-ball balk-line and ran sixty at it with as little difficulty as I could run thirty at it."

At massé play Willie is the same surprise to those who see him as at everything else. At the follows, and especially the half-follow, he rarely fails to connect, and his draw shots are marvels of accuracy. His position play is excellent, but will be improved with practice. He plays now a strong, accurate game, never getting in the least excited and never showing temper or confusion over a miss. His weakness at present is inability to reach Willie's schooling is not being neglected while he is playing billiards. He has kept up his connection with the public school at Cornwall. Each year he goes back to take his examinations and last year he passed with 97 per cent, the best showing made by any boy in his class.

THE CAIMAN

Something About the Much Dreaded Man Eating Crocodile of Cuba.

Varieties of Snakes, Lizards and Other Reptiles in the Island.

Cuba possesses many varieties of its own fauna, but the most interesting to the American tourist, chief among them, is the caiman, or crocodile, which must be seen at least once in the island as it is so common, and its size and strength, which make it a most interesting sight. It is a large, heavy, scaly animal, with a long, pointed snout, and a small, dark eye. It is found in the swamps and rivers of the island, and is a voracious feeder. It is a common sight to see a caiman lying on the bank of a river, with its head and front legs sticking out of the water. It is a very slow-moving animal, and it is not until it is almost on top of you that you realize its size and strength. It is a very dangerous animal, and it is not to be trifled with. It is a very interesting animal, and it is a must-see for anyone who visits Cuba.

hours ending at 10 o'clock, Central time.

Jan. 11.—The barometer is low over Lake

Superior, Duluth, and over Colorado and Wyoming. An increase in temperature occurred in the lake region tonight, and is slightly cooler over the Rocky Mountain districts and stations in the far South. In the northern portions of the lake region, the temperature is about 40 and 50 in the lower Mississippi valley.

Light falls of snow occurred over

Minnesota, Wisconsin, the eastern Dakotas, and rain in Lower Mississippi valley states. Fresh southerly winds are blowing in the lake region and adjoining districts this morning.

tell him, then to whom did God reveal it? In all ages religious fanatics and thority direct from God to commit rapine and murder and all manner of atrocities.

When people claim such authority in this last year of the nineteenth century, the demand may properly be made that they show their communications. We are the Philippines because the Hanna-

McKinley administration landed us

there, and it is impious to attempt to place the responsibility on Providence.

To say, as does Mr. Beveridge, that we are in it and cannot get out is utterly absurd. We got into it voluntarily, and we can get out the same way. We can make peace now with the Philippines in the same way in which we have maintained

peace with the Cubans by giving them to understand that we will honestly assist in establishing and maintaining their independence. Let them be given that assurance in a good faith, and peace will be quickly restored in the Philippines, and the needless sacrifices of lives and treasure would be no international complications caused by such a step. We could take the time necessary to secure the establishment of a firm and stable independent government, and no foreign nation would have cause to complain. The Philippines are a created under the guidance of the great American republic, and started under its protection, but in danger of attack or annihilation by any other country, either

European or Asiatic. By following our former position as a mighty force in propagating parliamentary and republican government throughout the world.

As Mr. Bryan said recently: "When we enter upon a policy of empire we cease to be a moral factor in the world's progress." And as Dr. Conwell said in his interesting lecture here last night on

"Garibaldi," the United States secured its great power in the world and its moral influence and not through the great achievements for liberty throughout its history, but through the right of self-government to another people and its position and becomes a prop of absolutism.

AN ABSURD NOTION.

An article in the New York Journal, signed by the editor, W. R. Hearst, demands the enlargement of the American navy for the novel reason that the lake cities are in danger of attack by British warships. Here is what the Journal says:

"The deepening of the Canadian canals to fourteen feet just completed

this year, opens the great lakes to British warships and to the entire British fleet of 300 torpedo boats and destroyers, and leaves Buffalo, Cleveland, Toledo, Detroit, Duluth, Milwaukee and Chicago defenseless. Typical examples of the British ships that can go through the enlarged canals are the sister third-class steel cruisers Barclonne, Barrosa, Blanche and Blonde, of 1500 tons each, 3000 horse power and 16.5 knot speed, and armed with six inch rapid guns, four 3-pounders and two machine guns. A squadron of vessels like that, with a torpedo flotilla attached, approaching Lake Ontario in time of peace, could be before Buffalo

in one day after the outbreak of hostilities, unless we were able in that one day to block the Welland canal, which might be doubtful in view of the fact that the British authorities have planned battery defenses for every lock in the entire system. The people are Duluth and the Southwest, but with this new route in operation it will pass out of existence even as a way station.

The new route will not take in the Twin Cities at all, but will pass to one side,

Duluth's business will be largely influenced by the new line, and as the Journal well says its institution will be an occasion for rejoicing here.

In marrying American heiresses and budding their wealth over to the other side, Englishmen are no longer to have it all their own way. Tenny C. Claflin, who lived in London and who subsequently married one of the richest nobles in England, is coming to America to live, bringing with him a fortune of $200,000 which he acquired by her marriage along with her.

She is not quite so famous as her sister,

Victoria Woodhull, but she will do.

In explaining his recent action taken for the relief of Wall street Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. Huntington said that he was not a man to be taken in by street on Dec. 15 and stocks suffered an awful depression. There were fears that the depression would spread, and that the Treasury would be forced to issue to put money in circulation and relieve the stringency. Looked to by whom?

When all other means of preventing the building of an Ishman canal fail,

perhaps, says the New York Journal,

Mr. Huntington will solve the difficulty by buying up the entire country through which it might be expected to pass.

And now they say that Lord Methuen,

one of the British generals in South Africa, has been taken in by the Boers, and that he has been taken in by the Boers, and that he has been taken in by the Boers, and that he has been taken in

Marquette Firebug Confesses

Operations to Begin at Ropes Gold Mine.

Marquette—John Robinson, who was arrested on suspicion, made confession that he was responsible for the last incendiary fire in the Ropes gold mine. He said that he had been hired by Messrs. McKim and Belcher, lumber operators. Robinson, who had worked in their camp, claims to have been hired and paid off at short rate. He did it in revenge, he is not thought to be the same man who set the fire in the Nests block last week.

Shimpening—The mill tailings of the rock stamped during the many years operation of the Ropes mine will be reworked in the next few months. This work will be done by the Cleveland, who have recently purchased the property from the Ropes estate. It is estimated that the tailings contain over 44 tons of free gold, which is estimated to be recovered is not so expensive as to prevent a most profitable venture. It is estimated that there are 150,000 tons of the tailings in the Ropes mine, and the location may be deep over a large area.

Houghton—It is rumored here that the Franklin produced in the neighborhood of 20 tons of mineral again last month, and is given; the old mine an increase in years by taking a large part of the one-third of the supply of rock for the full size of the mine. It is estimated that the mine will be able to produce a large amount of mineral in the future. The mine is now being worked in the old days the mill, with one head operating. It is expected that

We are not always able to quote you present prices on the most staple and saleable line of goods in the house. But we planned many months ahead to be able to give you values like those of the past few days. Not that we were smarter than other merchants—you might call it luck if you wish. But the fact nevertheless remains, that many merchants were "caught napping." They thought they had plenty of time—and all this talk about advanced prices and all that was merely talk. They fooled no one but themselves—for prices did advance. And when they were ready to buy had to pay it. That is why we call ourselves lucky. And you might say the same—because you are sharing it with us. Every price is being quoted to you exactly in proportion to the price we paid—with a small margin attached. This too, in all probability accounts for the immense selling—more than exceeding our expectations. Tomorrow would seem an excellent time to come—as Saturday is usually a very busy day for us—and you'll have more time to choose at your leisure.

M'COY AND CHOYNSKI

Are to Battle Twenty-Five Rounds at the Broadway Club.

AT CATCH WEIGHTS

McCoy Is Favorite in the Betting, But Few Wagers Are Made.

New York, Jan. 12.—In sporting circles last night odds of 3 to 1 were offered that McCoy would defeat Choynski in their 25-round bout before the Broadway Athletic club to night. Few wagers were made. It is scarcely necessary to say this will be a catchweight affair. The men are not in any particular class, both being a trifle over the middleweight limit at this time, and yet too light for the upper heavies, as far as the technical division goes.

This match has been hanging fire for some time. For three years it has been talked of without it being made. All this time the friends of the Californian have been urging him to go ahead and sign articles which might include almost any concessions. In this place, that and the other articles have been drawn up in each case the negotiations have fallen through for one reason or another. For Friday night everything is in readiness.

The bickering between Choynski and McCoy have engendered a good deal of disagreeable personal feeling. As a matter of fact Choynski formally retired from the ring a few months ago.

HID MCCOY.

He felt he was in a position which would permit him to get along without continuing business in the ring. But when McCoy threw out a definite declaration man with whom he had been in a lengthy wrangle, Choynski took it up instantly, and the battle is due.

JONES FOR CONGRESS.

The Toledo Mayor Is Strengthening His Organization.

Toledo, Ohio, Jan. 12.—The non-partisan (or Sam Jones) party does not purpose being lost in the great political shuffle. It is now laying the groundwork for a more far-reaching contest than the one recently terminated in this state. It will cut a figure in every city, ward and precinct where there was any exhibition of strength at the recent state election, when Samuel M. Jones, mayor of this city, received something over 10,000 votes as an independent candidate for governor.

The fight has already begun for the congressional control of this district and a special effort will be made to elect non-partisan congressmen in the Ninth as well as all other Northern Ohio districts.

The non-partisan leaders are led to believe that the vote they polled last fall gives them easily the balance of power, and that all they now require is a conservative organization. They have already organized in a measure. This organization is said to be a "club" of light-headed radicals, beginning and ending with wind-mill-jumping. It is a well-considered and carefully measured plan, and it is non-partisan.

McCoy's private secretary, Reynolds, admitted in a move on foot, but refused to discuss it.

The groundwork of the plan is to organize in every city, town and hamlet in Northern Ohio, where it is at all possible, non-partisan clubs. These clubs will be extensions to other sections of the state of the club which is being organized in this city.

While Jones has designs on congress, he is ultimately to land in the United States senate, and that he is being sufficiently sold to Sam Jones, although he has never claimed to be against the senator from Ohio.

IN MICHIGAN.

The Cleveland-Cliffs Company

Leases Titan Iron Mine—

Fire at Ripley.

Michigan—The Cleveland Cliff company, of Lapeer, has secured a lease of the Titan iron mine, in Marquette county, the most westerly mine of Marquette iron range, and will reopen the same at once with a full force after an absence of twelve years. In the past six months the Michigan, Imperial, Webster and Heaford mines, all idle for nine to fifteen years, have been reopened by this company and will employ 100 to 200 men after the opening of navigation next May.

Ripley—Fire destroyed the foundry office, pattern shop and one warehouse of the Portage Lake Machine works, yesterday, causing a loss of $5,000. The machine shop with the work on hand therein was saved. The works will be rebuilt on a larger scale.

Both the Hancock and Houghton departments responded, but had to recede with bursting hoses. Broken runners, bridges and defective hydrants and one fire engine was out of repair.

Houghton—A close traffic arrangement has just been entered into between the Copper Range and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railways by which through freight will be handled direct between Chicago and Houghton. The arrangement will go into effect next Monday and will give the Lake Superior copper district, with a population of 80,000, its first competing railway. An agreement has also been made for the building of a union station at Mass City. The Chicago & Northwestern will run solid passenger trains from Chicago to the copper country, beginning next week, using the tracks of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic from Neenah to Houghton. The St. Paul system has been running similar trains via Champion for the past six weeks, and has captured practically all the copper country passenger traffic. The St. Paul cuts under the Northwestern's time from Chicago to Houghton, the latter will retaliate by cutting the time on the Chicago-Minneapolis run, where the Northwestern has the shorter route. The Calumet & Hecla mine is shipping immense consignments of copper overland to Russia by way of San Francisco, Nagasaki and Port Arthur, China. The expense of overland shipment is very heavy, and the dispatch with which the order is being filled marks very urgent requirements, the leading presumption being that copper so obtained is destined for pressing needs in naval and military equipment. What it presages remains to be guessed.

A woman known as Mrs. Bennett was taken into custody and found to be deranged, by physicians who made an examination. The arrest was made on the street, and when Mayor Scott learned of the matter he immediately repaired to the dilapidated house where the woman had lived, and there he found an 8-months-old baby, thinly clad, with neither food nor fire in the house. The child would have starved in a few hours but for the mayor's thoughtfulness. Mrs. Bennett is said to have been a well-known stenographer with one of the leading firms of Minneapolis previous to her downfall, after which she fled with her child. The woman is hopelessly insane, made so by her troubles and privations.

ment has just been entered into between the Copper Range and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railways by which through freight will be handled direct between Chicago and Houghton. The arrangement will go into effect next Monday and will give the Lake Superior copper district, with a population of 80,000, its first competing railway. An agreement has also been made for the building of a union station at Mass City. The Chicago & Northwestern will run solid passenger trains from Chicago to the copper country, beginning next week, using the tracks of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic from Neenah to Houghton. The St. Paul system has been running similar trains via Champion for the past six weeks, and has captured practically all the copper country passenger traffic. The St. Paul cuts under the Northwestern's time from Chicago to Houghton, the latter will retaliate by cutting the time on the Chicago-Minneapolis run, where the Northwestern has the shorter route. The Calumet & Hecla mine is shipping immense consignments of copper overland to Russia by way of San Francisco, Nagasaki and Port Arthur, China. The expense of overland shipment is very heavy, and the dispatch with which the order is being filled marks very urgent requirements, the leading presumption being that copper so obtained is destined for pressing needs in naval and military equipment. What it presages remains to be guessed.

A woman known as Mrs. Bennett was taken into custody and found to be deranged, by physicians who made an examination. The arrest was made on the street, and when Mayor Scott learned of the matter he immediately repaired to the dilapidated house where the woman had lived, and there he found an 8-months-old baby, thinly clad, with neither food nor fire in the house. The child would have starved in a few hours but for the mayor's thoughtfulness. Mrs. Bennett is said to have been a well-known stenographer with one of the leading firms of Minneapolis previous to her downfall, after which she fled with her child. The woman is hopelessly insane, made so by her troubles and privations.

TWO GIDDY DAMSELS

Nabbed For Lowering the Present High Standard of the Bowery.

HAD TO PAY FINES

Mortimer Wagner and Alice Wilson of Minneapolis Are In Trouble.

The pace that kills was too slow and dignified for Flo Griggs and Rosamond Johnson. Their dazzling, feverish mannerisms, their blonde hair with its delicate odor of tar soap, to say nothing of dashing hats violently tilted at rakish angles, caused Bowery saloon keepers to lower awnings as they strolled by. But last night they collided with the heavy hand of adversity. They were accused of a palpable infraction of the Bowery's present lofty standard of ethical endeavor. When they were arraigned in police court this morning their demure and nunlike demeanor, and their big, sad, damp eyes proved to be quite a refreshing contrast.

Both young ladies said they paid rent for two rooms in the Montreal hotel, located at the corner of Superior street and Seventh avenue west. They said that F. Pensola and Florence Bree conducted the "hotel" and that it was not of the best character. Both young women were fined $5 and costs, which they promised to pay.

Mr. Pensola was next arraigned charged with keeping a house that is a glaring imposition on good morals. He said he was not guilty, and his examination was set for next Monday, with $25 bail. The housekeeper, Florence Bree, made her escape.

The second case on trial this morning was that of Mortimer Wagner and Alice Wilson. He left his happy home for her, and yesterday Mrs. Mortimer Wagner, of Minneapolis, left her happy home for him. Last night Detective Donovan left his happy home for both of them. They entered pleas of not guilty when arraigned today, and the hearing was set for this afternoon.

J. Brown and Walter Wilson were with the Bowery girls when arrested last evening, and Brown this morning pleaded guilty of frequenting the Montreal house. He was fined $10 and costs or ten days, and indicated that he would have to take the ten days. Walter Wilson appeared in court for a few minutes, but when his name was called he had disappeared and his bail was declared forfeited.

Jean Hanna, better known as the Minnesota Chickens, was arrested on complaint of William S. Norton, charged with creating a disturbance. He was found guilty and sentenced to fifteen days in the county jail, with hard labor on the side.

William S. Norton was found guilty of residing in a house of ill-repute at 528 West First street. The complaint was made by Mrs. Jean Hanna, and Norton paid a fine of $25.

FIRM IS INCORPORATED.

Duncan & Brewer Lumber Company Files Articles.

The firm of Duncan & Brewer has been incorporated as the Duncan & Brewer Lumber company, the articles being filed this morning in the office of the register of deeds. The purpose of the corporation is dealing in timber and lumber in every manner, and owning docks, boats and railroads necessary for the conduct of such business. The capital stock is $200,000 and the limit of indebtedness is the same amount. The incorporators are David A. Duncan, Frank A. Brewer and Charles A. Duncan.

The first officers of the corporation are as follows: D. A. Duncan, president; Frank A. Brewer, vice president; C. A. Duncan, secretary and treasurer. A couple of large transfers of timber lands in 57-13, and for $63,635.38 T. 12, Dorr transfers lands in 58-13. The mineral rights are reserved in both cases.

WINNIPEG CURLERS LEAVE.

They Go to St. Paul—Join in a Letter to Capt. La Salle.

The five Winnipeg curlers, Messrs. T. A. Anderson, J. S. Ewart, C. P. Wilson, L. A. Hamilton and James Tees, who have been visiting here this week as the guests of the Duluth curlers, left this afternoon on the Eastern Minnesota train for St. Paul. They will curl there this evening against a St. Paul rink and again tomorrow afternoon. From St. Paul they will return home. Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Ewart accompanied them.

The Winnipeg men were deeply pained to hear of the serious illness of Capt. F. N. LaSalle, and they inquired with much concern as to his condition. Capt. LaSalle has often gone to Winnipeg with the Duluth curlers and was always one of the most popular of the Duluth lads. Before they left today the Winnipeg curlers joined in a letter to Capt. F. N. LaSalle, extending their wishes for his speedy recovery and hoping to again have the pleasure of welcoming him to Winnipeg.

LADIES' ORCHESTRA CONCERT.

Farwell Performance After a Successful Engagement of Six Weeks.

Considerable enthusiasm has been awakened among the devotees of popular music at the prospect of the concert to be given by the Chicago Ladies' orchestra at the Armory next Sunday afternoon. Rarely, indeed, has Duluth been favored with such a musical offering. With delicacy, force, fine conception, smoothness and brilliancy, the talented musicians of this widely-advertised orchestra will present a concert program composed entirely of the highest standard of familiar music. Immediately after the concert the orchestra will leave for the East to fill a number of important engagements, and this concert, which is given by popular request, will be a sort of farewell to Duluth after a very successful engagement of more than six weeks.

Mining Leases Filed.

Two options for mining leases on lands in 63-12 and 13, running to the Chandler Iron company, were filed yesterday afternoon in the office of the register of deeds. Stephen Thomas and George Ripley give the company an option for six months on the 1/2 of the sec 24, and the ne 1/4 of the sec 4 of section 25, 63-13, and lot 5, section 30, 63-12, the royalty to be 25 cents per ton on a minimum output of 25,000 tons the first year and 50,000 tons thereafter. The lease is to run thirty years. John Semer and Nicholas Welch, of Escanaba, Mich., give the same company an option on the sw 1/4 of the sec 4 and lot 3 section 28, and the w 1/2 of the ne 1/4 of section 23, 63-12. The option runs until Nov. 1, 1900, and the royalty on output are to be the same as in the first lease.

MARRIAGE A FAILURE.

George Lane Voted Matrimony Far From Satisfactory.

Minneapolis, Jan. 12.—George Lane, 2400 East Franklin avenue, has some well-developed opinions concerning the state of matrimony. George discovered that it is a failure. On the other hand, the party of the second part in Mr. Lane's case has found the blessed state to be a howling success. For Miss May Hodgman has indulged in it, by actual count, no less than three times.

Lane's discovery dates from the first day of the present year. On that day he left his home early in the morning to visit his father, who was ill, and Mrs. Lane went to see her parents. In the afternoon when Lane returned home he was more than astounded to find that the beautiful stock of Christmas presents that Santa Claus left had disappeared. Likewise Lane's clothes and his bed clothes and a small sum of money. His indignation was large and active, and the next morning, when his wife had not appeared, he went to the home of her parents, 614 Seventh avenue south, and there made formal complaint. He says he received no satisfaction, except a remark dropped that he was "not the first that had been conquered." This remark set him to cogitating, and he made his way to Clerk of Court Dickey's office, and was amazed to find that May Hodgman had married him as No. 347.

May Hodgman is at the present time but a little over 19 years of age, and undoubtedly holds the state record in the matter of matrimony. She married Henry Carpenter, of Staples, Minn., Oct. 6, 1898, and in a short time Carpenter became tired of the wedded state and secured a divorce. She then cast her affections on Mark Whitney, a Salvation Army man of Minneapolis, and was joined in marriage to him on Sept. 10, 1899. One of the parties wearied of the contract, and Mrs. Carpenter-Whitney consulted an attorney about the necessity of a divorce, and her parents claim he told her the way in which she was married did not necessitate such proceeding. Nothing daunted by her two previous attempts, when she met Lane in Menomonie, Wis., she decided to adopt the old adage and try again. Accordingly they were married in that city Nov. 1, 1898.

SHE REPENTED EARLY.

Mrs. Joseph Zeperer Tires Quickly of Seeling the World.

Chicago, Jan. 12.—A desire to see a little more of the world than is discernible from within the borders of a little Wisconsin town led Mrs. Joseph Zeperer, of Cato, to leave home three days ago, taking $250 of her husband's money, and come to Chicago. Sister Edmonds, from the convent in the neighboring town of Boyce, was her traveling companion.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Zeperer found his runaway wife and caused her arrest on a charge of theft. Repentance then came quickly. The young woman begged her husband to forgive her and take her home. The other woman also pleaded for Mrs. Zeperer, and expressed sorrow for her part in the affair, declaring that she would return to the convent never to leave it again. The police joined in the efforts to placate the husband. He seemed adamant, but when his wife wept he broke down and forgave her.

Then the charge against the woman was stricken from the books. She restored his $250, less a small sum expended in Chicago, and a little while later the man and the two women were on the way back to Wisconsin.

A SCANDAL REVIVED.

Sir Samuel Scott Will Face Death in South Africa.

London, Jan. 12.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Ismailia is to the effect that Sir Samuel Scott, who arrived there on the liner Omrah, has volunteered for service in South Africa and has left for Suva in the yacht Golden Eagle, accompanied by Mr. Stanley.

This recalls a story current in society some months ago, which created much talk at the time. Sir Samuel is a rich banker and has a handsome wife, who is the daughter of Earl Cadogan. They did not get on well together and one day the lady disappeared from home. The story was that she had eloped with a handsome young officer.

Some time afterward, Lady Scott, yielding to the entreaties of her family, returned home, but her husband immediately set out on his travels and now it seems he is going to face death in South Africa.

GORMAN'S AMBITION

Would Again Represent Maryland In the United States Senate.

LIKELY TO SUCCEED

Bills By the Hundred Being Poured into the Legislative Hopper.

From The Herald

man they desire to again advance to a high position in the legislative branch of the United States congress. They do not apprehend that Mr. Smith, having secured his nomination for election to the senate in any way to defeat the wishes of the republican party, will permit the indications foreshadow that he will succeed Mr. Wellington as United States senator, and that his advent into the senate will be highly welcomed by it. The democrats just now needing a man to lead the legislative branch of the senate and in the nation. As far as Mr. Gorman is concerned he is keeping his desires to himself, and it is therefore impossible for his closest friends to secure any information regarding his future intent politically.

A man of Gorman's caliber is required in the senate to guide the Democratic ship of state at this time. He is greatly missed. His retirement from the senate March 4 last, was a severe blow to the democrats. Since his retirement no man as capable as he has come to the front to take care of the policies, advocate them judiciously and force them.

A. P. GORMAN.

A few months ago it was announced that on account of ill health former Senator Gorman would never again attempt to enter public life, and his only desire was to further the interests of his late political colleagues in the state of Maryland. It now seems that having had several terms in the United States senate, and having discovered the goal of his ambition cannot be reached, viz., the presidency, Mr. Gorman is endeavoring at this moment to advance his chances before the Maryland legislature, which is now in session, but it will not have the power to select Mr. Wellington's successor. It is upon these men that Mr. Gorman is said to be working to further his own chances for another seat in the United States senate. Securing, as he may, the majority of these Democratic members, working, as he will, to elect a house favorable to his own interests. It is not impossible that if the legislature is Democratic, Mr. Gorman may again come to the senate in lieu of Wellington, Republican, and if he can accomplish this result it is believed everywhere that it will not only benefit the Democrats in Maryland, but the party at large throughout the country. There is one only obstacle in Mr. Gorman's pathway. This obstacle is the present governor, Mr. Smith. It is assumed by the anti-Gormanites in Maryland that Governor Smith will succeed Mr. Gorman as the Democratic leader in that state. The friends of Mr. Gorman, however, do not seem to be at all worried over the prospects of the Democrats and pushed on the lines Gorman would suggest, were he still a member of the upper house. Mr. Gorman, as is well known, has a residence in Washington, and is here continuously during the year, and while he is wise enough to keep out of the capital building, he does not give up his former colleagues in the senate is being followed and wisely, for the son that his ability heretofore known is still recognized.

Bills by the hundred are being poured into the legislative hopper and enough have already been introduced in the house and senate to keep the members of these bodies busy engaged for the next four years. Of course, many of the proposed acts are old, being left over from former congresses and reintroduced at the opening of the fifty-sixth congress. Among the new measures presented for the consideration of the present congress of more than usual interest are the following:

Mr. Snodgrass, of Tennessee, in a joint resolution, proposes to amend the constitution of the United States so as to permit the placing of a tax on incomes. He says: "We have about reached the maximum limit of duties, imports, and are utilizing the subjects and sources of internal revenue in sums far in excess of those derived from the constitution of the United States so as to permit the placing of a tax on incomes. He says: "We have about reached the maximum limit of duties, imports, and are utilizing the subjects and sources of internal revenue in sums far in excess of those derived from the constitution of the United States so as to permit the placing of a tax on incomes."

That there is proposed to the people of the United States the following amendment to the federal constitution, to wit: "The congress of the United States shall have power to lay and collect taxes on the incomes of the people of the United States and the corporations doing business therein, in any way and manner it deems wise and expedient. Provided, that it does not violate the rule of equality and uniformity in such class of taxation. And provided further, that congress shall have the right to determine the amount and character of exemption from such taxation."

Resolved further, that when the foregoing shall have been ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several states it shall become a part of the constitution of the United States."

Congressman White, of North Carolina, the only negro holding a seat in the house of representatives, wishes the government to appropriate $15,000 to defray the expenses of an exhibit of negro education and industry at the Paris exposition.

and to diffuse same among the people of the United States. The measure provides, in addition to a friendly relation with that government, the appointment of an assistant secretary. It is also intended to transfer to the department of mines and mining the geological survey bureau.

Mr. Shafroth, of Colorado, believes that as half a century of peace with the republic of Mexico has produced a most friendly relation with that government, the United States should return to Mexico the trophies of victory our arms achieved over that country in 1848. He has a joint resolution which reads: "That the cannons, flags and banners which were captured by the United States in the conflict between this government and the republic of Mexico, be returned to the Mexican government with appropriate expressions of friendship and good will."

DECREASE IN EXPORTS For December Amounting to Twenty-Five Million Dollars.

Washington, Jan. 12.—The monthly statement of the exports of domestic breadstuffs, provisions, cotton and mineral oils from the United States, issued by the bureau of statistics shows the following: December, 1899, decrease, $25,000,000; compared with December, 1898, about $12,000,000. Cattle and hogs, $2,011,750; decrease, about $200,000. Provisions, $15,237,500; decrease about $24,000. Cotton, $12,831,100; decrease, about $11,000. Mineral oils, $4,415,000; increase, $1,300,000. Total, $67,781,500, as against $92,488,665 for December, 1898. For the twelve months the exports amounted to $712,031,925 as against $788,995,103 for the twelve months of 1898.

WHITE PINE LUMBER STOCKS. The Lightest Known In Any Year Since 1890.

Chicago, Jan. 12.—In its annual review of the condition of the white pine lumber trade, the American Lumberman today says: "The total stocks at the mills on Dec. 1, 1899, amounted to 2,728,271,000 feet, as against a total on the same date a year previous of 3,494,739,000 feet. Thus an aggregate shortage exists at that date of 766,468,000 feet. On Dec. 1, 1897, the total stocks at the mills amounted to 2,515,558,000 feet, or larger than the stock of last year by 1,157,280,000 feet. In 1897, the total stock was 4,189,395,000 feet. The stock on Dec. 1 was the lightest known in any year since 1890. This decrease in stock applies to nearly every district and is about evenly divided between the Western and Eastern territory."

GRIFF KILLED HIM. Des Moines, Iowa, Jan. 12.—William Moseley, one of the leading Odd Fellows of Iowa, died instantly of heart failure yesterday afternoon at his home. He had been prominent in local politics and was the founder of the Iowa Odd Fellows' Annual Insurance. Yesterday the annual election of the society was held and he was elected as president. He was a man of great energy and was the organization for a long time. Grief was a result of his failure to secure a reelection is given as the primary cause of death.

state officers and a legislature in sym-desires to make. It was a speech that inspired all who listened to it. And, last The Herald has been accused of being carried away by admiration of the honest and sincere man who fills the governor's chair, as it has never been filled before, let these comments, also from the Republican Journal, be read:

"If a speech, a single speech, ever did so much it may be said that John Lind last night gave new life, new hope and new purpose to the Democracy of Minnesota. In the deep impression made by the governor's thrilling speech office politicians, the schemers, the intrigues, sank out of sight. John Lind and his principles stood before the 700 assembled Democrats as indispensable to party success. Everything, it was felt, should be sacrificed for the sake of such a leader. If the feeling of last night endures Mid-road Democracy is as much dead in Minnesota as Mid-road Populism. It is now, if possible, all the operative forces against the Republicans:
the Anti-Republicans have succeeded in the Democrats of all shades, and perhaps the Populists; certainly also the Silver Republicans. The Republicans of Minnesota have a fight on their hands."
And for the first time in its history
Minnesota will enter a presidential campaign in the list of doubtful states.

DANISH WEST INDIES.

There is renewed talk of the probable purchase of the Danish West Indies by the United States. Recently it was said that Germany was contemplating the purchase, but this was promptly denied and the assurance given that Germany recognized the applicability of the Monroe doctrine to these islands.

These islands are small and of little commercial value, and their sole value to this country would lie in their excellent harbors. The best harbor is in the island of St. Thomas, which was described by Admiral Porter in a special report made by him to President Lincoln on possible sites for naval stations in the West Indies.

St. Thomas lies right in the track of all vessels from Europe to the Pacific, and the United States, bound to the West Indies, would be well served by having a base of supplies near the mouth of the Caribbean. The islands are of great importance to the United States, and it is a matter of course that the United States will not allow them to fall into the hands of any other power.

St. Thomas is a small Gibraltar by itself and contains no less than 100,000 acres of land. There would be no possibility of land being needed, as the island is already a well fortified harbor, and every point near which a vessel or boat could approach is a natural fortification, and only requires guns with little labor expenditure to be made a formidable harbor in the West Indies better fitted than St. Thomas for a naval station.

300,000 and the loss of 2700 American lives.
What are we gaining by it?

Since building associations were organized in the United States fully $1,000,000,000 have been returned to the members. The profits received by members to date have been about $400,000,000. Had the dues and gains remained in these associations to date their present capital would be about $2,100,000,000.

Says the Washington Post: "We observe by the proceedings of the several state legislatures that the usual desire to strike at the wickedness of the railroads and other corporations has manifested itself.
This is an invitation the corporations receive annually."

The number of new railway cars built last year, exclusive of cars constructed by the railroad companies themselves, was 123,887. Of these 117,382 were freight cars, and yet there was hardly a line of railroad in the country which had cars enough for the freight offered for transportation.

It is said that Senator Beveridge of Indiana, the young man who talked at some length the other day on the Philippine question and said little, is offensively ecclesiastical. That is a defect in his character that, unless corrected, will ruin his career.

An Iowa editor has figured out that the 1899 crop in that state would, if made into whiskey, keep the people of the entire commonwealth drunk for forty years. But how does he know the exact amount it would take to make each person drunk?

It is stated that during the month of January $200,000,000 is to be distributed in New York, Boston and Philadelphia in the form of semi-annual dividends. That should relieve the tightness of the money market.

The Philadelphia Ledger has compiled a list of football casualties during the past season. It finds that eleven players have died of their injuries and thirty have been so seriously hurt as to probably leave the injuries permanent.

St. Joe, Missouri, has a standing offer of $500 reward to the policeman who kills a dog which has been a nuisance in the city.
The reward has not yet been claimed. One reason is that high-waymen give St. Joe a wide berth.

As a capturer of wild beasts, Col. Bryan is winning renown, having secured a panther

An Iowa farmer has invoked the injunction as a bar to his daughter's marriage.
But love will laugh at injunctions as well as at locksmen.

FALL NOW EXPECTED

News at Brussels That Capitulation of Ladysmith Must Soon Occur.

A BATTLE IMMINENT

Buller's Forces at Potgieter's Drift and Are Menacing Joubert's Right.

VIENNA, Jan. 12.—The Neue Freie Presse today publishes a dispatch from Brussels saying news has been received from Pretoria to the effect that the Boers have stormed all the heights and Ladysmith and that the capitulation of that place is hourly expected. It is possible the news received in Vienna by way of Brussels may refer to the fighting of Saturday last, Jan. 6, when the Boers captured the British trenches three times and were driven back by the British. The Boers are now in position all day long, only being driven out of it at night.

ALL EYES ON BULLER.

Series of Fights or One Great Battle Imminent.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—A special to the Herald from London says: Again the eyes of the British nation are concentrated upon Buller's advance on the Tugela. As a result of the morning's fighting, rumors were current in the West End, among society people, and in military circles close to the war office, that Buller was in motion, but no confirmation could be obtained.

The war office was silent up to noon, when an official dispatch was given out that on Thursday the British moved westward to Potgieter's drift, seized the heights and left the Boers four and a half miles to the north. Buller's drift is not marked on any known map. It is known to be about fifteen miles west of Colenso and is due north of Springfield, from which Buller's telegram was sent.

Buller must refer to the large, not the small Tugela, which he occupied the south bank. The Boers are believed to hold the junction of the two rivers and their position is Mount Tabanana, east and southeast of Ladysmith, which commands the approach to Potgieter's drift. A sketch at the map will show the significance of the move.

Buller was said a short time ago to be constructing a railway towards Springfield. It was also reported that the bulk of his forces had retired to Pretoria. The available troops sent to make a demonstration under Clery when Ladysmith was attacked being 10,000, or about one-third of his army.

It now appears probable that 15,000 have either utilized the branch line, or marched from Pretoria by the road which leaves Durban on the right, and after eighteen miles, in a northwesterly direction, crosses the little Tugela, reached the main Tugela, and then, after eight miles, went north, guarding the junction of the two rivers. A sketch at the map will show the significance of the move.

At Potgieter's drift Buller has the main Boer entrenchment away on his right. If he can maintain himself there, he seriously threatens the safety of the Boer position. A sketch at the map will show the significance of the move.

His immediate opponents are four and a half miles north, guarding the junction of the two rivers. A sketch at the map will show the significance of the move.

Everything is in a state of confusion. The Boers have evacuated Springfield. Buller has that force threatening his rear as he is the command. A sketch at the map will show the significance of the move.

One point must be considered. Unless the Boers have evacuated Springfield, Buller has that force threatening his rear as he is the command. A sketch at the map will show the significance of the move.

Should the British be successful, on both banks of the river, with the chance of a heavy rain, it is probable that the Boers will be driven back to the Tugela. A sketch at the map will show the significance of the move.

It is also stated that the Boers who are holding Thabana-na are now quite isolated, as the bridge and one of the greatest estates in Great Britain, has changed his plans and will start for England tomorrow. It is his intention, however, to return to South Africa with the Imperial yeomanry.

A ROUND FOR BRITISH.

Win in a Brush For Position at Slingersfontein.

ROSEBURGH, Cape Colony, Jan. 12.—A strong force of British troops advanced this morning under cover of a brisk artillery fire and encamped at Slingersfontein, on the Boer's eastern flank. The Boers' patrols retired, but subsequently a body of Boers attempted to seize the position. The attacking column, however, was repulsed with a brilliant dash, and the Boers' position first and fired volleys at the enemy, who retired in the direction of Colenso.

The movement of Gen. French's troops in the vicinity of Colenso this morning has been the subject of much speculation. It is also thought to partially confirm the suggestion that Gen. Buller's plans include synchronous movements in all the spheres of operations. About 4,000 troops sailed for South Africa this afternoon.

EIGHT DEATHS PER DAY.

Is the Average in Ladysmith From Enteric Fever.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—Gen. Buller's twenty-eight words announcing his forward movement on Thursday is in accord with the report that he has passed around the western end of the Boer lines at Colenso and is now several miles beyond them and severally miles from the Boer lines. The Boers have been driven back by the British. The Boers have been driven back by the British. The Boers have been driven back by the British.

The death lists from enteric fever and dysentery at Ladysmith, according to the latest report, are considered more serious than the 420 deaths recorded at the end of the last week. It is shown the sanitary condition of the beleaguered town.

A letter from Ladysmith, dated Dec. 26, says that the Boers have been driven back by the British. The Boers have been driven back by the British. The Boers have been driven back by the British.

Venezuelan Rebels Refute Government's Claim That They Are Crushed.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—A dispatch to the Herald from Port of Spain says: "It is declared that two days after the revolution crushed, in Hernandez, the government troops at Elna. This authority said the rebels took many prisoners, captured 352 Mauser rifles, 65 cases of cartridges, many flags, seven cannon and three Maxim guns. The government troops were killed and ten were wounded. The rebels were killed and ten were wounded. The rebels were killed and ten were wounded."

The Democrats and Populists Are Holding Their City Conventions.

THE HALL CROWDED

Owing to a Report That Crassweller Might Have a Majority.

The council chamber was filled this afternoon when the time for the Democratic city convention arrived. The sentiment had been general that Mayor Truelsen would be nominated, but there was, nevertheless, suppressed excitement, for it was known that the Crassweller men had not quit, and proposed to vote for their candidate and make as strong a showing for him as possible. It was rumored, too, that the Populist convention would switch from Murray to Crassweller, and this added to the interest.

At 2 o'clock William Spencer, chairman of the Democratic city committee, read the call for the convention, and D. Allen, of the First ward, was elected temporary chairman. He thanked the convention for the honor bestowed upon him. The committee on credentials, as follows: William H. Bingham, of the Third ward, was selected temporary secretary.

MURDERED BY BURGLARS.

Merchant Killed and Suspects Threatened With Lynching.

EDENBURG, Ohio, Jan. 12.—N. K. Goss, a merchant, was shot and killed early this morning by three burglars whom he discovered in his store. The burglars escaped and an armed posse started in pursuit. Cincinnati, Jan. 12.—A special from Edenburg, Ohio, to the Times Star says: At 10:30 this morning officers marched three desperate characters through the streets of Edenburg, which is seven miles from here, at the point of revolvers to jail. Over 100 people surrounded the jail, threatening lynching.

When officers were driving to the scene of the murder they captured two suspicious characters near Campbellsville. The third prisoner was afterward captured along the railway. The men gave the names of John McGeehen, of Cleveland; Dan Snyder, of Cleveland; and Frank Summers, no residence. All are tramps and believed to be desperate characters. They were seen at Charleston near Edenburg yesterday. One man is reported under arrest at Newton Falls. The officers say they have no doubt about the guilt of the prisoners. The excitement at Edenburg is intense.

FRENCH LAW OF MARRIAGE.

Gives Deserted American Wives a Peculiar Status.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—According to a dispatch received at the state department, from Ambassador Porter, at Paris, the American women who have become the wives of Frenchmen and subsequently have been deserted, have a peculiar status before the law of France.

The French law of marriage provides that marriages contracted by French citizens in foreign countries are valid if celebrated according to the forms habitual in those countries, providing they conform to the requirements of the French code with respect to age, prior marriage, kinship, parental consent and cohabitation.

If, however, these formalities have been disregarded, the deserted wife still retains her status as a French citizen, and if she has a child, she is entitled to a pension of age and her husband's name at the time of marriage, and if there was no manifest intention to evade the provisions of the French law. Under these conditions the alliance would be known by the courts as a putative marriage, the effect of which would be, notwithstanding the invalidity of the marriage, to give the wife the status of a legally married woman, and children the right to bear the name of the father.

They also inherit the father's estate. The French law would further give the putative wife the right of alimony, and would enable her to enforce such a claim, not only against her husband, but in the event of his inability, against his relatives.

An American wife of a French husband, who has proved unfaithful, therefore, is protected by the law of France, and the husband is released from none of his obligations. If he should under the circumstances, re-marry in France, he would be liable to sentence for bigamy in the courts of his own land, if it could be shown he was over 25 years of age at the time of his first marriage, and he had entered into that contract in good faith.

FARMERS' SHUTTLES. Washington, Jan. 12.—The industrial commission today heard the testimony of J. H. Hale, of the Nebraska Paper company's mammoth plant at Nebraska. The Grand Rapids community was called upon and responded promptly. The loss probably reached $50,000 and is covered by insurance.

HALLOWELL FIRE. Hallowell, Maine, Jan. 12.—The eighth factory of Miller & Co., in this city, was burned today, causing a loss of $75,000. Two firemen were badly injured by an explosion.

GREELY GAINING. Washington, Jan. 12.—It was reported at Gen. Greely's home today that he continued to maintain a steady improvement.

NEWS TO EARLING. Chicago, Jan. 12.—President A. J. Earling of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway today gave a full detail of the report from Ottumwa, Iowa, that officials of the Milwaukee road were negotiating for the control of the Kansas City, Pittsburg & Gulf road and that an air line was to be built from Davenport to Ottumwa, by a connecting line in a trunk line from Chicago to the gulf. President Earling said that no such action had been contemplated, adding that the report was entirely new to him.

A MAN OF IRON. "The present poison murder trial in this city," said George R. Fletcher, of Chicago, at the Waldorf-Astoria, relates the New York Tribune, "reminds me of a mistake a druggist made once upon a time in my native town in Maine. There used to be a family living on a farm about four miles out, the head of which was known throughout the countryside on account of his physical strength. I can just remember seeing him as a small boy, and so enormous was he that he scared me almost to death. All sorts of stories of his feats of strength survive there to this day: how unaided he pulled a horse out of a ten-foot hole into which he had fallen; how he held up a heavily loaded wagon on his back while a broken wheel was replaced, and many others. One Saturday afternoon about dusk he came into the druggist's, and complaining of a toothache, asked for something to ease the pain. The druggist fixed him up a dose of what he supposed was paracetamol, which the farmer swallowed on the spot and departed. An hour or so later the druggist discovered that his assistant had changed the bottles about on the shelf, and in the gloaming he had mistaken the laudanum for the paracetamol bottle, with the result that he had given the farmer a dose of that deadly drug sufficient to kill three ordinary men. It was too late to rectify the error, and how he got through that night and the following day the druggist could never remember. Nothing happening, however, he began to breathe more freely by Monday, although every time the store door opened he expected the sheriff to enter and make any inquiries, though, and this along, and about noon the door was filled with the man's attendants, and he saw him that he said afterward he could have kissed him. The farmer said: 'Joel, what was that there stuff you gave me Saturday?' It was so darned strong that it was all I could do to keep awake until I got home, and when I did go to sleep I didn't wake up again until the next afternoon. It cured that all-fired toothache all right.' It was the walk home with his oxen that undoubtedly saved his life, but think of a physique that could stand such a dose!"

Advised Clark When White-side Exposed the Deals, Says Wilness Hewett.

HEWETT SAW MYERS

And Offered Him Ten Thousand Dollars to Vote For Clark.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—When the senate committee on privileges and elections began its session today in the case of Senator Clark of Montana, the defense stated that they had been unable to find the letters written to Senator Clark and Mr. Hickford by the dentist, Foster, who yesterday produced their letters to them. It was then decided to have C. W. Clark, a son of the senator, make a statement as to the disposition of the documents, but Mr. Clark being absent, Mr. Garr was recalled to afford Senator Turney an opportunity to question him concerning his visits to Helena prior to the meeting of the legislature last winter. Garr said the principal object of his visit was to see about his resignation as United States commissioner.

The first regular witness of the day was Mr. Clark's son, who was in attendance during the session of the legislature during the session of the legislature. A SLIGHT ADVANCE

Wheat Started Out Firmer, Fell Back But Sold Up Again.

TRADING WAS DULL

An Advance at Liverpool the Cause of the Early Steadiness.

Duluth Board of Trade, Jan. 12.—The wheat market started out quiet but slightly higher this morning, the strength being due to an advance in prices at Liverpool. The effect of yesterday's bullishness was still felt, however, and there was nothing in the reports today to counteract it. The result was that prices rose slightly, but the loss was soon recovered owing to support given by the provision market.

The market continued steady to the close, which was at a higher than yesterday, both here and at Chicago, for the May option.

There was fair trading in futures on the fourth board, but the market was changed at 10:45, advanced to 95¢ at 11:00, reached 96¢ at 11:15, fell back to 95¢ at 11:30, rose again to 95½¢ at 11:45, and closed at 95½¢.

At 11:50, the cash market was sold at 26¢, and the May option at 95½¢.

THE TREND OF STOCKS

Gains at the Opening Were Soon Wiped Out By Realizing.

SUGAR SOLD SHORT

And the Strong Bear Attack Forced Down Its Price Again.

New York, Jan. 12.—Moderate fractional gains were made at the opening in spite of some irregularity in the London market. The specialties led the metals showing some sharp gains. Sugar jumped 2½¢ on a country report from shorts. Realizations and short sales of sugar wiped out most of the advance.

Firmness prevailed elsewhere and there were gradual improvements on a country trading. Brooklyn's tank made good gains. Prices advanced further in a dull market.

Speculation in sugar was active, with a strong bear attack forcing down its price again.

DISCIPLINE

Is Often the Cover For Brutality in the German Army.

The Soldiers Subject to Every Form of Indignity and Cruelty.

The maintenance of discipline in an army is one of those matters upon which all soldiers, from the field marshal down to the latest recruit, are in perfect agreement. It is essential that the rules of the service and orders from superiors should be rigidly observed and obeyed, but the methods in which those rules and orders are enforced is sometimes open to question. This is especially the case in Germany. The discipline to which the soldiers are subjected is of the strictest nature; their imperial chief is fond of addressing them as "my children," but the German private has much less chance of obtaining fatherly treatment than his brother in other countries.

One confirmation of this is to be found in the number of suicides in the German army, which is increasing at an alarming rate. It is not unusual to find a soldier committing suicide in the act of being executed, and it is not unusual to find a soldier committing suicide in the act of being executed.

The maintenance of discipline in an army is one of those matters upon which all soldiers, from the field marshal down to the latest recruit, are in perfect agreement. It is essential that the rules of the service and orders from superiors should be rigidly observed and obeyed, but the methods in which those rules and orders are enforced is sometimes open to question.

This is especially the case in Germany. The discipline to which the soldiers are subjected is of the strictest nature; their imperial chief is fond of addressing them as "my children," but the German private has much less chance of obtaining fatherly treatment than his brother in other countries.

One confirmation of this is to be found in the number of suicides in the German army, which is increasing at an alarming rate. It is not unusual to find a soldier committing suicide in the act of being executed, and it is not unusual to find a soldier committing suicide in the act of being executed.

Fleece By Her Titled Husband, Warns American Girls Against Alliances With Foreign Nobility.

house-son-in-law of an ambitious American house could only know, as I know, that the family had figured it would be a million shocks to them. The histories of many marriages are full of such shocks.

"When there is a marriage without love, how can you keep out of each other's hair? You have too much of it," she hemo-combed with her fingers.

"The very latest American girl who has a fat bank account goes to Paris to get married," said Mrs. G. to Mrs. F. "I have seen Mrs. This and Mme. The That."

"Madame proposes to introduce her husband to the French capital," said the very latest French couple.

"Such thoughtless kindness towards the ill-fated wife who can't keep her husband madame gets a commission from the marriage bureau," said the very latest American girl, too. If she can manage to marry her to some Frenchman, she will be able to live in Paris and live the usual of French noblesse in high society. She will be able to see the world and their opera boxes by the year. A fine source when she is married."

"Yes," said Mrs. Somebody offers it to some American family, flattered to pay for the marriage of their daughter to a son in law. No, she won't accept pay, but she will accept a commission for anything to my lady's poor fund—why will be accepted."

"The French I was assured was the income if I would only keep my husband in Paris for the rest of his life. I was intending to go to Paris and make a little money for my husband's production of the French cities in Paris."

"A commission was educated in a Parisian family," said Mrs. Somebody.

"Mrs. Torrance, daughter of Commodore Kemble."

"She married when very young, and her husband died six years ago. She will be able to see the world and their opera boxes, as I have written her life in the form of a novel. I have written her life in the form of a novel. I have written her life in the form of the inner secrets of French society. Many conspicuous persons are reported to be in Paris."

made in the money markets of the world. With those ideas abroad it is not surprising that the company never got into the hands of the law, and the directors simply dropped the scheme. Mr. Macdonald, however, was not to be so easily headed. All this time he had been drawing up a plan for the formation of a company which was acquiring a reputation for aggressiveness and perseverance, which was to be known as the Metropolitan Railway. Never was a man so assiduous in lobbying as he was in the case of this company. He wrote to the directors of the company and stated that if this coal line they only wanted through there was a great market for laborer in Toronto, and that the prospect of cheap light and heat for the houses of the city would be a great inducement to the manufacturers. The laboring class, at least, believed him. He had a great many supporters for the majority—this is the second way the way—he has had the support of the city.

When the bottom fell out of the Georgian Bay Canal scheme, Mr. Macdonald had to take a new role. Now that the canal was a failure, he had to show that he had the mayor's chair in mind, and this was the only way to do it. He had to show that he was a man of great ability. However, it was circumstances more than his own merit that gave him the chance. He looked around and found Toronto in the grip of several monopolies. The city was a very poor place. The street railway company and with Quixote under the management of the city, and the city as the First Citizen, the man who always stood in the background. He became an arch industrialist of the city, hurray for the city, and he was the only man who was able to restrain the railway company from doing what it pleased. He was the only man who was able to restrain them from doing what he considered right.

He backed the sale of the franchise by the city to the railway company. He was the only man who was able to restrain them from doing what he considered right. He was the only man who was able to restrain them from doing what he considered right. He was the only man who was able to restrain them from doing what he considered right.

The Herald has been handed a copy of the "Kingston County Gazette," of the date of Jan. 4, 1800, which was published in Kingston, N. Y., 100 years ago. It is a very interesting publication of eight pages, and it contains many references pregnant with interest to the student of history, both American and European. The issue chronicles the funeral of Gen. George Washington, the return of Napoleon Bonaparte from his disastrously successful Egyptian campaign, and a number of other happenings of the closing years of the eighteenth century that was so full of history-making Reference is made in an address by the senate to the president of a rebellion in Pennsylvania that, seen to have been quelled by the prompt action of the president and the use of troops. The paper contains the resolutions passed by both houses on the death of Washington, and the report by President Adams. Also, an original from "My a young lady" on the same mournful occasion.

with the proceedings of the American congress. Though the paper is dated Jan. 4, some of the news runs as far back as Dec. 10, while the European news is nearly all dated in October. This is an interesting contrast to modern newspaper methods since the telegraph and the cable have been enlisted in the work of newsgathering. A curious thing is that several times in the proceedings of the two houses of congress mention is made of visits made by the houses in a body to the president. John

Mrs. Roddy, wife of Thomas R. Roddy, enjoys the distinction of being the only white wife of an Indian chief. Moreover, she is the wife of a white chief, for her husband, Thomas I. Roddy, a native of Ireland, has recently been elected chief and ruler of the Winnehago Indians, a band of the Ojibwa tribe, near the Canadian border. He is a tall, slender man with a full head of bushy hair and curling mustache. His wife is a very good looking little woman with a sufficient amount of diplomacy in her composition to assist her husband through the most trying situations that may befall the future chief.

The weather conditions for January may not be as exceptional for twilight effects as December, but, none if not so frequently, will the morning and evening twilight call forth admiration from the lovers of celestial beauty.

At the earth was in perihelion, or nearest the sun on Jan. 2, at which time it was 3,600,000 miles nearer the sun than when in aphelion, or her most distant point from the sun on July 2. The result is that when the earth is at this point of her orbit the sun's diameter is the greatest, the earth moves the fastest and her brightness to the sun is the severest of the winter.

Last Monday the moon that came with the new year reached the phase of first light. The waxing crescent moon, last quartering, takes place Jan. 23, while on Jan. 25 we have the full moon. On Jan. 26, the new year. On Jan. 3 Venus and Luna are at their closest, but the meeting takes place in the sky at a distance of 10 degrees blue intervening between the two. A blue moon occults Neptune on Jan. 27. The blue of the seas is faint for us to see his face, and so is a blue of this interesting planet.

On Jan. 25 comes a meeting with Jupiter, followed a few hours later by a meeting with Saturn. In conjunction with Uranus, but, as before, the planet is too far distant to be an interest. On Jan. 28 Saturn and the moon are at their closest, and we find a third occultation of Neptune. For the astronomer or close observer can see, although there are only two days left for the old moon, that the moon is in conjunction with Mercury, on Jan. 30, is in conjunction with us on this date we can see the moon and the planet together. We can invite our friends to witness the meeting.

To Mars belongs the place of distinction for the month, for he not only is in the most similar meeting with the sun, at this last, which occurs on January 25, but he is also the first planet to rise on an evening to a morning star, which group he continues the remainder of the month. He is in the quadrature, half way on his road to the opposition, until November, so that he is seen in the morning sky in the east, gradually increasing his distance from the sun for some months to come.

Venus still greets admiring eyes in the morning sky, but she is passing her closest further away from Old Earth and becoming more radiantly beautiful. She is the only planet, besides the celestial phenomena for the month, which is not in the zodiac. If our eyes are concerned, she plays rather an important part in the drama of the month, for her lovely face to gaze upon. Her picture is quite complete in itself.

Neptune is an evening star, and, we now know, two hours behind the earth in her orbit. She is in the zodiac, and two hours before the month closes. While located at present in the zodiac, she is near enough to the Bull, he is near enough to any of the bright

TRADE PROSPECTS GOOD

Commercial Agencies Report That the Year's Business Has Begun Well, Although Comparative Quiet Prevails Now.

AN INCREASE IN LOANS.

New York, Jan. 12.—H. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says today:

The business of the year begins well though there is still much of the usual hesitation. In branches where last year's business was extraordinary and prices have risen greatly some pause is natural, though nothing indicates decrease of continuing disposition or purchasing power, but there is continuing rise in wages to promote increase. Monetary conditions have grown easier with the return of $4,000,000 from the interior during the week and further deposits by the treasury and more liquidation in some speculative stocks have also helped. Banks report an increase in their per cent of commercial loans and rates are generally more easy after the decline announced by European banks.

The futures in grain Jan. 1 were pronounced weekly 24.16, tons of pig iron against 20.55 Dec. 1, but as several had been sold for the holidays and others had started, the output was probably larger than at the earlier date. It is excessive consumption at 185, as the iron shows an increase of 250 tons in month's stocks. The manufacture of iron apparently consumed during the last year 13,910,000 tons, less than exports in December. The monthly total is about 4,225,000 tons, or 46.5 per cent. Price changes are slight, but new business is slightly better than last year, as strong in tone, but as yet without much change in prices. Textile manufacturers are more active, but employment for a long time, though scarcity of water has troubled some cotton mills.

Trading is embarrassed by uncertainty about prices. Wool is not active, nor are specialties or manufacturers' goods to buy at current prices, though the goods market shows some improvement. Foreign demand has been quiet, but some improvement is seen. Foreign demand has been quiet, but some improvement is seen. Foreign demand has been quiet, but some improvement is seen.

The boot and shoe manufacturer has a similar difficult position. He is not active, but dealers are slow to deal at these prices. Manufacturers' prices will not hold. Manufacturers' prices will not hold. Manufacturers' prices will not hold.

Tawney's Ill-Treatment.

Reasons Why He Was Not Made Chairman of the Insular Affairs Committee as Henderson Promised.

From The Herald
Washington Bureau.

Washington, Jan. 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—A great deal of comment has been excited in the lower house of congress over the alleged ill treatment of Representative Tawney, of Minnesota, in advance of the actual ruling of the resolution to provide for the creation of a committee on insular affairs. It was everywhere expected that the congressman from the First Minnesota district would be chairman of this committee, in advance of the actual ruling of Speaker Henderson. There is no doubt but that Mr. Tawney anticipated as well that he would be assigned to the chairmanship of this committee, and the understanding now is that this promise was made to him by Gen. Henderson in Chicago several weeks before he was induced into his present high office.

Reasons why Mr. Tawney was not placed in this position are many, and it would take too much to review the various acts of the speaker to prevent, and failure on his part to assign Mr. Tawney this important position. Mr. Tawney, as is well known, is one of the most active members on the Republican side of the house, and he has attracted much attention when he makes a speech, in various ways a leader on the Republican side, capable of being of assuming this position.

There is a deal of history back of the failure of Mr. Tawney to become chairman of the committee. Had it not been for the influence of Senator Hanna, of Ohio, and National Committeeman Payne, of Wisconsin, Mr. Cooper, who secured the place, would not have been designated. Two weeks before Speaker Henderson announced the "makeup" of his committee, Mr. Tawney believed, and rightly so, that he would be named for the chairmanship of the committee, which will be important in dealing with the affairs connected with legislation regarding our colonial possessions, at this session of congress. Mr. Tawney was perhaps better prepared than any other man in the house to assume charge of this committee, and his failure to secure it does not redound to the credit of the speaker. This is written with the understanding that Mr. Tawney connected with this controversy desires to be pointed out as a dictator to the present speaker, and to the people that the man who holds the third highest office, by the grace of the house, is a dictator. States is influenced frequently by politicians in low power.

Had it not been for the work entrusted by National Committeeman Payne, of Wisconsin, and by the advice and consent of Senator Hanna, of Ohio, President McKinley, Mr. Tawney would have been given the position he desired at the head of the committee which he created by resolution, and as a matter of fact there was no necessity for giving this prize to any man. In the house, Mr. Tawney is a leader, and he has a right to a seat in the house. Mr. Tawney has a question in the house, which Speaker Henderson cannot take away from him. He is recognized as an energetic worker, and he has a right to a seat in the house. He is recognized as a man thoroughly capable of leadership, and he will assume this in this session regarding this matter.

Speaker Henderson, as has heretofore been said, is by no means as capable as Mr. Reed, whom he succeeds. He is not built on the Reed plan. The former Mainette, practicing law in New York, with an income of over $50,000 a year, will be able, if he likes, to scoff at his former colleagues and followers in congress. It will be many years, perhaps, before another man assumes to manage what is considered the most important legislative body in the world. Gen. Henderson before the end of his present term as speaker will, without doubt, discover that it is not an easy matter to fill the shoes of the big Mainette, and it goes without saying that his prestige as a politician and statesman will suffer therefrom. The West is not at all satisfied, as I have heretofore pointed out, with the committee assignments allotted to the various members in the far Western states on committees where the speaker could, if he had so desired, given much better places. It is an open secret that in order to win the speakership, Mr. Henderson was compelled to cater to such men as Payne, Hanna, McKim, and Sherman, of New York, and other politicians of like ilk. The West is dissatisfied. They have reason for showing their enmity to the speaker in placing them upon committees where they will be unable to most successfully the requirements of their constituents. It is not necessary to state here that Mr. Tawney is not the only Western representative who is dissatisfied with the action of the speaker in reference to committee assignments. I might go ahead and name Cushman and Jones, of Washington state, several members of the California delegation, the Oregon members, the representative from Montana and others in this section of the country. The present speaker will therefore have a hard task in endeavoring to force through certain policies in the future way, proposed as they are by the McKinley administration.

Earl of Minto and His Wife.

Something About the Two Distinguished People Who Are Governing Our Near Neighbor, Canada.

During the now historic yacht race between the Shamrock and the Columbia no foreign guest attracted as much attention in the United States as the earl of Minto. His lordship divided his time between the deck of the Erin and the home of Governor Roosevelt, at the home of Governor Roosevelt. Sir Gilbert John Elliott Murray-Kynmound was born in 1845 of one of the noblest families of England. His father, the third earl of Minto, was a diplomat in Queen Victoria's court, and was employed upon many missions of state similar to those now executed by Lord Charles Bessborough.

While, as all the earls of Minto have been for generations, he upheld his party loyalty without allowing it to influence his statesmanship. It was not until he was 35 years that the earl of Minto was married. He wedded the Hon. Mary Caroline Grey, daughter of Gen. the Hon. Charles Grey, and in 1880 he was appointed governor of Canada as secretary to the then governor-general. He saw service during the rebellion of Louis Riel in 1885.

For many years he commanded the Border Mounted rifles, and has been brigadier general commanding the South of Scotland infantry volunteer brigade. The earl of Minto has not taken much part in politics. He contested, as Viscount Melgund, the Hexham division of Northumberland in 1884 in the Liberal Unionist interest, but was defeated by 4177 to 2220 by Miles Moore. His knowledge of Canada, acquired during his three years' residence in the Dominion some thirteen years ago, has stood him in good stead, and makes him an admirable governor general.

Minto is one of the keenest sportsmen in the English nobility, and has advanced the cause of high-class sports in the Dominion since he assumed his present office there. He cultivated a taste for athletics during his school days at Eton, and while an undergraduate at Cambridge gained distinction as an oar. As a gentleman, he is a sportsman, and on the field, as a sailing good man to hounds and in field athletics, Canada's governor general has won renown. The pack of hounds with which he is especially well known as a hold horseman are the Graton, Lord Varborough's and the Bicester.

It is pleasant to note also that Lady Minto comes from a sporting family. Her cousin, Sir Edward Grey, a rising young statesman, has won the commendation of the famous Francis Fris for his skill with the fly rod, and is a celebrated golfer; while Lady Minto herself rides, shaves and cycles with the ease and grace of an accomplished artist.

As a society leader the countless of Minto has been very successful during her distinguished husband's administration. The duties devolved upon the wife of the governor general of Canada are by no means simple, and it is only by her charm of manner that Lady Minto has made herself felt even beyond those who have come into immediate contact with her. She is a beautiful woman, and though nearly 40 years of age, could easily pass as one on the sunny side of 25.

In the prime of life Lord Minto finds himself surrounded with five lovely children, all of whom are under 15, and the subjects of much interest, as there has never been a young family in the government house before.

The eldest, Lady Ellen, was born in Canada. She is a beautiful girl, and has a rather serious expression, which adds much to her charms.

The second, Lady Alice, was born in England. She is a beautiful girl, and has a rather serious expression, which adds much to her charms.

Thankful People.

THEY ARE FOUND IN EVERY PART OF DULUTH.

Many Citizens of Duluth have good reasons to be thankful for burdens lifted from backs which bore them for years. Scores tell about their experience publicly. Here is a case of it:

F. J. Carr, of 621 Second street west, employed as checker at the Northern Pacific railroad freight sheds, says: "I have no hesitation in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills to anyone troubled with pains through the loins or in the kidneys. I was bothered on and off for two years, especially if I caught cold or strained myself with dull, aching pains through the small of my back. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended for such troubles, I went to the Duluth Drug Company's store, procured a box and began their use. I felt better after a few days in a short time, the trouble disappeared entirely and I have had no return of it since."

press is not easily exaggerated. Paragraphs all over the country, for a solid year, assured fervent attention to the subject. We shall ever look back with delight in the memories of good as we reach out to greater deeds in the century we hope to greet every twelvemonth hence. We are glad that woman has found a sphere for usefulness—beyond the narrow walls of the home, and in the sphere of the world. She is now interested in the variety of ways, which space will not allow of touching upon today. One branch of work only can be mentioned, and that is one that concerns every home and every individual.

The science of home-making, and home-making, which includes every detail connected with the work and duties of the home, in other words, the science of household science and economics, touches the life of the lowly and of the exalted, and demands the careful attention of all.

This is a subject often discussed by exponents of varied character, but discussion alone avails nothing. It is the thought of many, as indicated by the title of the last issue of the home department of our local Twentieth Century club, that the science of the home, and the science of the home, should at once be taken looking toward the public instruction of our daughters in all their household work.

One who has even boldly expressed that thought reforms move at snail's pace. This fair city might live to see the day when the curriculum of our schools would include teaching on the science, even though some of the instruction now given were necessarily withheld. And why should this not be the case? For however important may be the study of sciences that but train the memory and sharpen the intellect, it is still more necessary to prepare our daughters for the practical teaching of everyday duties pertaining to the home has been too long neglected.

Through the untiring efforts of the W. C. T. U., the teaching of scientific truths relative to the effects of the science of the home, the human system has become well nigh universal throughout the public schools, and even in the homes, there is a tendency to be able to present the claims of scientific housework that the science of the home, and the science of the home, should at once be taken looking toward the public instruction of our daughters in all their household work.
